RLST.S138: The Religion of Islam

Summer Course: TTh 9-12:15, May 30 – June 29, 2017
Instructor: Prof. Gerhard Bowering
Office: 451 College; tel. 203-432-0842; email: gerhard.bowering@yale.edu

Course Rationale: This survey course examines Muslim religious beliefs and practices from the origins of Islam to the present, stressing Islamic religious ideas and institutions in a historical perspective. Central issues --- such as Islamic scripture and tradition, law and theology, sectarianism and mysticism --- and the variety of Muslim understandings of monotheism, prophecy, ritual and society will be the focus of the course. The primary goal of the course will be to understand what is taking place in the history of Muslim religion. The course is concerned with both the history of ideas and the modern and contemporary issues of Islam as a religion. It has great relevance for our understanding contemporary Islamic societies in theory and practice.

Requirements: About 80 pages of reading per week; regular participation in class; mid-term examination arranged as three twenty-minute tests in the second, third and fourth week of classes. Final exam: June 29, 2017, 9-11 AM.
