Chns S130 is a continuation of Chinese 120 for true beginners at the intermediate level. Enrollment is screened to exclude those students who have already acquired oral fluency through ways other than from the elementary college course. Those students are advised to take Chinese 132.

Chinese 130 meets Monday - Friday for 75-minute synchronous classes on Zoom and one-hour asynchronous study, which you should complete before class. You should also prepare for and attend a 30-minute one-on-one tutorial each day. Besides the time mentioned above, you are expected to spend 2-3 hours every day, preparing for class, reviewing for tests, and doing homework.

Instructional language is exclusively Chinese, and you are expected to speak in Chinese during class time. In class activities include drills, games, organized oral exercises such as making dialogs, presenting a narrative, discussion, debates, performing a skit, and many interactive activities.
Objectives

Chns S130 helps you reinforce what you have acquired in the elementary course and continue to expand your skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing, by studying a variety of texts covering different aspects of daily life, simple academic subjects, cultural settings, and limited written expressions. Finishing the course, you are to be able to communicate more comfortably and confidently with native speakers of Chinese on simple daily and academic subjects and to have acquired a solid reading and writing knowledge to get ready for studying semi-authentic and authentic Chinese texts at advanced levels. You will also gain knowledge and understanding of Chinese culture.

Academic Honesty Code

Academic Dishonesty is not tolerated at Yale. Academic dishonesty includes cheating on a test or an examination, plagiarism, improper collaborating on assignments, or the submission of the same essay to two instructors without the explicit consent of both. Please be sure to review Yale’s Academic Integrity Policy.

Assignments and Activities

We will spend roughly 5 hours on each lesson.
- Pre-class quizzes: Students are expected to prepare for new words and complete the exercises on Quizlet, and watch the instructional videos and complete the quizzes on Canvas.
- Listening and Reading comprehension exercises on Quia after class
- Oral assignment, Presentations and Final Oral Project
- Online Dictation after finishing a lesson, in form of sentences, outside of class
- Written Assignment: One essay written assignment for each lesson
- Required one-on-one oral practice with a TA on assignments provided in Canvas
- Written tests (1 for every 2 lessons)
- Listening & Oral Tests (1 for every 2 lessons)
Homework Policy

You are required to hand in homework and take all dictations, quizzes, tests, and exams as scheduled. Any missing homework assignments will be graded as 0. In case you must miss class on the day that an assignment is due, turn it in ahead of time. Any duplicated homework or writing assignment will also receive a 0. Duplicate means if you exactly copy other student’s assignment, homework, or you copied from any Internet documents.

Attendance and Participation Policy

Chns S130 is a highly intensive and fast-paced course, thus regular attendance is essential to your progress and to the progress of your fellow students. You are not allowed to miss any classes. You should let your instructor know if you are not able to attend the class due to illness or any emergency,

Preparation & Participation: Student will be asked to PREVIEW and REVIEW the learning materials BEFORE coming to class. In class, student will be invited to participate in all kinds of classroom activities to facilitate language learning. Instructors will assess student’s preparation & participation on a weekly basis, based on how well student has completed the previewing/reviewing assignments and participated in classroom activities.

10 -- Student shows signs of EXCELLENT PREPARATION before coming to class and can answer MOST of the instructor’s questions about the previewing and reviewing assignments quickly and accurately. Student pays FULL ATTENTION to classroom instructions. Student PROACTIVELY PARTICIPATES in classroom activities and contributes to class by offering good ideas or questions.

8 -- Student shows signs of SOME PREPARATION before coming to class, and can answer SOME of the instructor’s questions about the previewing and reviewing assignments accurately. Student pays ATTENTION to classroom instructions. Student contributes to classroom activities.

6-- Student shows signs of LACK OF PREPARATION before coming to class, and can answer FEW of the instructor’s questions about the previewing and reviewing assignments accurately. Student pays ATTENTION to classroom instructions. Student participates in classroom activities.

4 -- Student who does one of the following things:
(a) Come to class TOTALLY UNPREPARED and CANNOT answer the instructor’s questions about the previewing and reviewing assignments.
(b) SELDOM participate in classroom activities.
(c) Write Chinese homework or prepare for other course work in class.
(d) Play with cell phone, laptop or other electronic devices (e.g. checking emails, texting, updating Twitter or Facebook pages, or watching YouTube)

0 – Student misses a class without good reason.

Evaluation Methods

As you can see from the distribution of the grade, we value your effort and participation as much as or more than your scores on the test. Your regular and constant engagement in and outside class with the course materials and activities is the key to your success.

The final grade is not curved or rounded up. It is calculated as follows:

- Participation 10%
- Pre-class quizzes 10%
- Online dictations 5%
- Asynchronous work 10%
- Homework on Quia 10%
- Written assignments 10%
- Tutorials 5%
- 4 Oral presentations 5%
- Final oral project 5%
- 4 Listening & oral tests 15%
- 4 Written tests 15%
